The Governing Board of Pathfield School publish a Statement of Behaviour Principles which says that it is a statement of principles, not practice, and clarifies that the Headteacher is responsible for drawing up the policy, taking account of these principles when formulating it.

The Statement of Behaviour Principles sets out the Governing Board's principles for behaviour in the school, which include:

- Every pupil has the right to learn but no pupil has the right to disrupt the learning of others.
- All members of the school community should be free from discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited by or under the Equality Act 2010.
- Pathfield School seeks to give every pupil a sense of personal responsibility for their own actions.

Rationale and Purpose

This Statement of Behaviour Principles has been drawn up in accordance with the Education and Inspections Act 2006, and DfE guidance (The school behaviour policy: the role of the governing body). The purpose of this statement is to provide guidance for the Headteacher in drawing up the Behaviour Management and Physical Intervention Policy at Pathfield School so that it reflects the shared aspirations and beliefs of governors, staff and parents for the pupils in the school, as well as taking full account of law and guidance on behaviour matters.

It is intended to help all school staff to be aware of and understand the extent of their powers in respect of discipline and sanctions and how to use them. Staff should be confident that they have the governor's support when following this guidance.

This is a statement of principles, not practice: it is the responsibility of the Headteacher to draw up the Positive Behaviour and Relational Support Policy at Pathfield School, though they must take account of these principles when formulating this. The Headteacher is also asked to take account of the guidance in DfE publication Behaviour in Schools: Advice for Headteachers and School Staff. The Positive Behaviour and Relational Support Policy must be publicised, in writing, to staff, parents/carers and pupils each year. It must also appear on the school's website.

Behaviour Principles

- Every pupil has the right to learn but no pupil has the right to disrupt the learning of others
- Everyone has a right to be listened to, to be valued, to feel and be safe
- Everyone must be protected from disruption or abuse
- Pathfield School is an inclusive school; all members of the school community should be free from discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited by or under the Equality Act 2010
- It is expected that all adults, staff, volunteers and governors, will set excellent examples to the pupils at all times
- Pathfield School seeks to give every pupil a sense of personal responsibility for their own actions

The school's Positive Behaviour and Relational Support Policy will ensure that there are measures to encourage good behaviour, and respect, and prevent bullying amongst pupils. Where there are significant concerns over a pupil's behaviour, the school will work with parents to strive for common strategies between home and school.

The school will seek advice and support from appropriate outside agencies where concerns arise over a pupil's behaviour.

The school's Positive Behaviour and Relational Support Policy will clearly reflect the school's approach to exclusions.

The school's Positive Behaviour and Relational Support Policy will set out the action that will be taken against pupils who are found to have made malicious accusations against school staff.

The school will fulfil its legal duties under the Equality Act 2010 in respect of safeguarding, children with special educational needs and all vulnerable children.

The school will keep abreast of current issues and initiatives with regard to Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and related regulations.
